

May 23, 2018

IRB Announcement – Updates to IRB Fees

Hello all—

The Office of Human Research has made the following changes to IRB fees and the pertinent page of the IRB website:

- IRB fees for departmentally funded research have been eliminated. This pertains to research that receives no external funding.
- IRB fees for review of commercially funded research have remained unchanged for several years, and so have now been increased to account for inflation. These new fees become effective on June 1. (This means that new fees will apply to all applicable transactions submitted for the Friday, June 1 deadline.)
- New instructions pertaining to the NIH single IRB mandate for multicenter research grants have been added

See IRB fees webpage at: https://www.jefferson.edu/university/human_research/irb-reference-documents/fee_schedule.html

Please direct any questions to our office.

Thanks,

Kyle Conner, MA, CIP